Forming valued leaders for God's mission

Friends,

Welcome to the Theological Education for Emerging Ministries (TEEM) Program at Wartburg Theological Seminary (WTS) or the Lutheran Seminary Program in the Southwest (LSPS). The TEEM program is academic, intensive, practical, and interactive. The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America designed the TEEM program as a vital option for theological education for this church's servant leaders and ministry settings in need of leaders. WTS and LSPS have a strong commitment to the program and to you. This TEEM Program Guide is designed to offer detailed information to students, mentors, supervisors, and leaders in the congregations, other ministries, and synods who are partners in TEEM.

We are excited to have you in our TEEM program – a program designed to provide you with theological education and to be in close partnership with the ELCA candidacy process through your synod. WTS and LSPS are justifiably proud of this program and of the TEEM alumni who are valued leaders for the church and the world. We are grateful for the mentors and supervisors who have committed to service as examples and guides, to the congregations and other ministries that are offering you the opportunity to serve as you learn and learn as you serve, and to the synod leaders who invited you into this program and walk with you through it.

You will find the TEEM academic and professional program to be challenging, enriching and rewarding. We trust that you will experience and profit from our commitment to be a worship-centered community of learning. We intend that the academic parts of the TEEM program should integrate smoothly and supportively with your ongoing ministry work. Your professors want to be supportive to you in the course work itself, during intensives and in the time in between. They welcome communication with you at any time. Wartburg learning is collaborative. You will be engaged with classmates, mentors, supervisors, academic advisors, faculty, synod staff, and others.

May God richly bless you in your learning and your service. We are looking forward to a continuing partnership with you.

In Christ,

Theological Education for Emerging Ministries

Theological Education for Emerging Ministries (TEEM) is a program by which the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America responds to the missional needs of the church. The program takes into consideration the leadership gifts, ministry skills, cultural learning styles/experiences, and/or age of a candidate when establishing expectations and requirements for preparation as an ordained minister in this church as well as the needs of their ministry setting.

TEEM candidates are people who have completed the Candidacy Application Process, received a positive Entrance Decision from their synod Candidacy Committee, have been recommended by their synod bishop, and have been accepted into the program by the ELCA Director of Candidacy. As the church accompanies TEEM candidates through their preparation process, regular, and open communication among partners is encouraged. TEEM candidates must also complete the admissions application process through a seminary.

Candidates accepted into the TEEM program will prepare to meet the opportunities for ministry in the 21st century in emerging ministries, or ministry settings that are without ordained pastoral leadership. All steps of the Candidacy Process must be completed (Entrance, Endorsement, and Approval) by every candidate accepted into the TEEM program.

Identifying TEEM Settings and Candidates

The Role of the Synod

Synod bishops have primary responsibility for recommending people who may be suitable for the TEEM program, as well as providing ongoing oversight of any TEEM candidate's preparation process. The recommendation describes the specific ministry site where the individual will serve.

An ethnic community or churchwide unit may assist the bishop in identifying a person who meets the criteria established for TEEM ministry. Those identified may include a lay mission developer already employed by the church, a person serving in an emerging ministry, or a person able to serve in a ministry setting without ordained pastoral leadership.

Settings for Ministry

The synodical bishop will be aware of ministry needs in emerging ministries and ministry settings without ordained pastoral leadership. A TEEM prepared candidate may serve an emerging ministry may be a new start or a re-development site that responds to the multicultural and evangelical outreach opportunities in the synod. A congregation that has been without ordained pastoral leadership for an extended time may also be an appropriate setting for a TEEM-prepared candidate. These ministry settings include ethnic specific, multicultural, rural, inner city, and ministry with deaf communities.

Criteria for Candidates

A person recommended for TEEM must be an active member of an ELCA congregation for a minimum of one year. The following criteria are to be considered for acceptance into the TEEM program:

- discernment of a call to ordained ministry within an ethnic specific, multicultural, deaf, urban or rural ministry setting
- prior ministry experience and a passion for mission within the context of the ELCA
- exceptional leadership skills
- normally, age 40 or older

TEEM Program Steps in Candidacy

Candidacy Resources are available on the ELCA website here.

A TEEM candidate is encouraged to explore ELCA Seminary TEEM options and begin the admissions application at their seminary of choice.

Candidates for the TEEM process must be granted entrance by a Candidacy Committee and recommended for TEEM by the synodical bishop.

1. Acceptance into TEEM by the ELCA Congregational and Synodical Mission Unit

After review of the documentation, the director for candidacy sends a synodical bishop and the Candidacy Committee a written notification of acceptance or rejection into TEEM with copies to the candidacy leadership manager. Candidates not accepted into TEEM may continue the candidacy process by applying for admission into a Master of Divinity program at an accredited seminary.

2. Competency Assessment Panel (CAP)

Following notification of a candidate's acceptance into the TEEM process, a member of the DM candidacy staff normally convenes a Competency Assessment Panel (CAP) with faculty from a seminary that offers a TEEM curriculum.

Members of the Panel include:

- The TEEM candidate
- The appointed seminary Academic Advisor and another ELCA seminary partner
- The bishop's designated staff person and/or a member of the synod Candidacy Committee
- A Regional Candidacy and Leadership Manager
- A representative from the candidate's ethnic community, or for lay mission developers contracted by the synod, the area Mission Director.

The Competency Assessment Panel will explore with the candidate her or his understanding of Lutheran theology and commitment to the teachings of this church. Based on this assessment, a plan of study will be developed that strengthens the basic competencies needed for ministry and mission in this church.

Competencies for Ministry and Mission Examined by the CAP

The Competency Assessment Panel's evaluation of a candidate's competency for rostered ministry includes assessment of an understanding of Lutheran identity as witnessed within the candidate's context, as well as an ability to integrate the basic competencies necessary for rostered service in the ELCA. Those include:

1. biblical knowledge and understanding
2. basic understanding of theology/ethics
3. knowledge of Christianity in the United States
4. ability to understand and communicate the teachings of the Lutheran church
5. evangelism/stewardship/worship
6. pastoral care skills
7. knowledge of ELCA church polity and ecclesiology

The Competency Assessment Panel may consult with other partners to assist the candidate in identifying existing programs and resources available for meeting the requirements established by the panel. The program selected for the candidate will embrace the literary and religious contributions from the candidate's own culture as well as reflect the rich diversity that exists in the church today. With seminary approval, some courses may provide advanced standing to be applied later towards a seminary degree program.

3. Supervised Clinical Ministry

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) continues to be an important model for the development of pastoral care skills for ministry and is expected of all candidates seeking rostered ministry. When the ministry being served would be negatively affected by the candidate's absence, the Candidacy Committee may explore alternative programs that provide for the development of these pastoral care skills. Any alternative program must meet the criteria and be approved by the synod and seminary program.

CPE is a method of theological education whereby a student learns pastoral skills under the direct supervision of a certified chaplain and in a process of group reflection. CPE provides a learning environment for the development of sensitivity to theological and psychological concerns of persons in crisis and offers a nurturing milieu for growth in self-understanding and pastoral identity on the part of the student. The primary learning group usually consists of five to seven students and one trained chaplain supervisor.

Typically, CPE occurs in a clinical setting, such as a general medical hospital, psychiatric hospital or correctional institution. Some congregational-based programs are also available. Many CPE programs require full-time involvement (five days a week, eight hours a day, for eleven weeks) plus on-call duty. Some part-time, extended programs are also available, which allow TEEM candidates to combine clinical experience and parish service. Extended units are often the best fits for TEEM candidates.

TEEM candidates are expected to locate and enroll in a certified CPE program in proximity to their own ministry setting. Assistance is generally available through synodical candidacy committees, and information is available on the CPE website at www.acpe.edu or check www.wartburgseminary.edu for CPW information.

Wartburg Theological Seminary does offer an alternative clinical program called the Clinical Program of Wartburg (CPW). This alternative program is by application only, with a limited number of students selected each time. This program is guided by ACPE standards, but adopted for this format as education that Wartburg is using in lieu of accredited CPE, for persons in special situations with permission of the candidate's candidacy committee. All clinical experience will be done through visits made by the students in their local community, with weekly group interactions through interactive technology. The unit will begin with a mandatory formation retreat and end with a mandatory evaluation retreat. This program through Wartburg is not ACPE Accredited but is led by an ACPE accredited CPE supervisor. The CPW program typically goes for about 11 weeks.

4. Endorsement

At the appropriate time, the Candidacy Committee will schedule an Endorsement Interview with the candidate and their academic advisor. This is typically scheduled at about halfway through the preparation process. This may also be in the form of a second CAP. Normally, the endorsement will follow CPE. The candidate will prepare the endorsement essay and provide this to a synod candidacy committee and seminary academic advisor.

5. Internship

The Candidacy Committee and ELCA seminary, in agreement with the candidate's Competency Assessment Panel, will determine the timing and nature of the internship. Typically, internship's a supervised learning opportunity at the candidate's ministry site. All internship supervisors should receive appropriate supervisory training from the seminary. Internship handbooks will be provided by the Contextual Education Office following receipt of the internship registration form.

The Contextual Education office has prepared a separate TEEM Internship Handbook. This section of this handbook provides just a brief overview of TEEM internship. The TEEM Internship Handbook will be provided to TEEM candidates upon internship registration or upon request. (The TEEM Internship Handbook is also available on the Seminary website as a PDF on MyWTS or www.wartburgseminary.edu/academics/teem/).

Internship timing for TEEM students is determined at the initial CAP.

The purpose of internship is to aid the formation of the candidate for ordained ministry through an intentional process of reflection and evaluation focused on particular learning goals identified in the internship Learning Service Agreement (LSA). While interns provide important leadership for the mission of the congregations in which they serve, the primary focus of internship is learning on the part of the intern. Thus, congregations that serve as internship sites undertake a ministry of teaching, collaborating with synods and seminaries in the formation of a candidate for ordained ministry in the Church.

Because TEEM candidates provide pastoral ministry of Word and Sacrament within congregational ministry sites for which their candidacy is intended, TEEM internships normally occur within those same sites. When and where this happens, all parties involved—candidates, congregations, supervisors, synods, candidacy committees, and the seminary—must be very intentional to ensure that the integrity of the internship as a learning process for the candidate is realized. The period of internship requires a different character of relationship between a candidate and congregation(s) than that which will have become familiar prior to internship. TEEM candidates fulfill a pastoral role within the congregations they serve; during internship, congregations must learn to exercise a critical teaching role in relation to the candidate they have already come to regard as their pastor. The spiritual gifts affirmed in baptism—including wisdom, understanding, counsel and knowledge—are necessary on the part of congregational members as they undertake to help prepare the one they regard as their pastor for ordination to that office and that ministry.

In some cases, sound judgment on the part of all parties involved may determine that a supplemental or alternative internship site be established in order better to help the candidate achieve desired learning goals. In such cases, the candidate's ongoing ministry site will be provided with pastoral care during times of the candidate's absence.

TEEM internships will normally extend over a period of nine-twelve months. Formal evaluations are conducted and completed at midterm and at the end of the internship.

Wartburg Seminary and LSPS strongly recommend that the internship supervisor shall be someone other than the TEEM pastor mentor.

6. Approval and Assignment

Upon successful completion of the candidate's program of study, the Competency Assessment Panel may act on behalf of the seminary faculty in making an Approval recommendation to the Candidacy Committee. The candidate's CAP reconvenes, meets with the candidate, and makes a recommendation to the Candidacy Committee, or the seminary faculty meet with the student and make an approval recommendation to the candidacy committee. The candidate will provide completed internship evaluations and the approved essay to the synod candidacy committee and seminary academic advisor. The Candidacy Committee follows the regular approval process. TEEM candidates participate in the Churchwide Assignment Consultation and are typically administratively assigned to the synod which has already identified a ministry setting. Forms and guidelines are available at www.elca.org/assignment.

7. Seminary Residency

TEEM is an action-reflection educational model that requires a candidate to serve in a ministry site during the program of preparation. The residency component of the program is completed through on-campus intensives.

WTS TEEM Curriculum

The WTS TEEM curriculum is designed for completion in three years but may be accelerated or extended according to the needs, preferences and circumstances of TEEM candidates. An extended program should normally not exceed seven years for completion from start to finish, unless specific action is taken by the faculty and student's synod candidacy committee to extend this for a student. Typically, one to two online courses are taken each semester (fall and spring) and two to four intensive courses during January, Fall, and the summer (taken in residence at WTS). Some of the course requirements may be met through previous graduate level education and/or experience, as determined by the Academic Dean. Candidates requesting consideration of previous coursework to meet TEEM requirements should submit to the Academic Dean copies of course syllabi, all written assignments with grades and evaluation included, and transcripts if applicable.

All courses in the WTS TEEM curriculum are non-degree, certificate courses, for which students receive either Full Credit, Participant Credit, or No Credit instead of a letter grade. To meet a TEEM requirement, students must receive a Full Credit for their courses. If another grade is received, the student will need to retake the course. TEEM candidates interested in completing a Masters degree following TEEM certification and ordination may opt to take degree courses to fulfill their TEEM requirements in order to ensure advance standing in a subsequent degree program.

TEEM candidates normally are required to complete sixteen course requirements, one from each of the following areas:

Hebrew Bible 1	Lutheran Ethics
Hebrew Bible 2	Lutheran Leadership, Ecclesiology & Polity
New Testament 1	Preaching 1
New Testament 2	Preaching 2
Church History	Lutheran Worship
Lutheran Confessions & Mission	Educational Ministry
Systematic Theology 1	Pastoral Care
Systematic Theology 2	Contextual Ministry

The course descriptions include which TEEM requirement the course meets and whether the course is offered only online or only during intensives. A requirement checklist is included in Appendix B to help students plan their courses and keep track of successful completion of the courses.

Wartburg Theological Seminary offers its courses that fulfill the sixteen course requirements on a one-year, predictable scheduling pattern. Students are encouraged, however, to take normally only five or six courses a year. Please see the latest course offerings on the seminary website or through the MyWTS web portal.

In addition to the sixteen courses, Wartburg's TEEM curriculum includes:

- Mentoring in partnership with home synod
- One unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE)
- Internship

- Boundary Training (most often completed in your home synod)

WTS TEEM Intensives

What is an intensive?

An intensive course is designed to provide 12-14 contact hours with a professor and student peers in a single week or weekend. Typically, much of the required coursework (e.g., reading) is assigned for completion prior to the intensive period, and the remainder of the coursework (e.g., a final paper) is assigned for completion upon a due date (determined by the professor) after the intensive period. Students will be informed about pre-intensive assignments prior to coming to campus.

Intensives are offered several times annually, two weekends in the fall, one week in January, two weeks in June, and one week in July. Students may take a single course during a weekend intensive and may take one or two courses during the week-long intensives.

Room and Meals for Intensives:

On-campus housing is available first come, first serve. All rooms have private bath; linens and towels are provided. Meals are available a la carte. Details regarding reservations are provided prior to the intensive.

Students are encouraged to bring a jacket or sweater for use in classrooms they may find to be uncomfortably cool.

What about computers?

Wireless internet access is available on-campus, including in residential rooms. Students bringing their own computers should also bring their own necessary cables. Students may also access computers in the library, during library hours indicated on the schedule for each intensive.

The library staff will provide instructions, the current password, and any other assistance necessary.

WTS TEEM Online Courses

What equipment do I need to take an online course?

All students will need to have computer (laptop strongly preferred) purchased in the last three years. For additional systems requirements, see “Recommendations for Educational Technology at Wartburg Seminary – TEEM Program” (Appendix H).

How do I take courses online?

All WTS online courses are hosted on Castle Commons, the seminary’s web-based platform located at: <http://castlecommons.wartburgseminary.edu/>. During the registration process all students will be enrolled automatically into individual course sites. There you can find everything you will need to participate in the online course. All currently enrolled courses are display on a student’s homepage once they’ve logged in using their Castle Commons account.

If you have any questions about online courses or access through Castle Commons, please contact the Helpdesk at helpdesk@wartburgseminary.edu.

What if I don’t know much about technology, computers, or online learning?

WTS provides a variety of resources and support. For online courses, the first person to ask is always your instructor. If needed, they can always refer you to Helpdesk, we’re here to help! Our staff is willing to provide one-on-one tutorial support on all our resources and platforms.

LSPS TEEM Curriculum

The LSPS TEEM curriculum is designed for completion in three years but may be accelerated or extended according to the needs, preferences and circumstances of TEEM candidates. An extended program should normally not exceed seven years for completion from start to finish, unless specific action is taken by the faculty and student's synod candidacy committee to extend this for a student. Typically, LSPS TEEM students participate in 5 on-campus intensives per year. Some of the course requirements may be met through previous graduate level education and/or experience, as determined by the WTS Academic Dean. Candidates requesting consideration of previous coursework to meet TEEM requirements should submit to the Academic Dean copies of course syllabi, all written assignments with grades and evaluation included, and transcripts if applicable.

All courses in the LSPS TEEM curriculum are non-degree, certificate courses, for which students receive either Full Credit, Participant Credit, or No Credit instead of a letter grade. To meet a TEEM requirement, students must receive a Full Credit for their courses. If another grade is received, the student will need to retake the course. TEEM candidates interested in completing a Masters degree following TEEM certification and ordination may opt to take degree courses to fulfill their TEEM requirements in order to ensure advance standing in a subsequent degree program.

TEEM candidates are normally required to complete sixteen course requirements, one from each of the following areas:

TEEM Pastor Mentoring

Integral to the entire TEEM candidacy process is the role of the pastor mentor. We recommend that pastor mentors assigned to TEEM candidates arrange to meet with their TEEM candidates for one hour each week throughout the duration of the TEEM candidacy process, including internship. We have prepared resources to help explain the TEEM pastor mentor role and provide considerations about how to fulfill that role.

Synodical bishops and candidacy committees are in the best position to ascertain the needs of their TEEM candidates and to appoint wise and experienced pastors to serve as TEEM pastor mentors.

Pastor mentors relate to TEEM candidates throughout the candidacy process for purposes of ongoing prayer, reflection, discernment, and the cultivation of pastoral identity and commitment. They also help candidates to integrate theological study and ministry experience. In many respects, the role of the pastor mentor is similar to that of the internship supervisor, but the two roles remain distinct despite common areas of interest and concern.

Pastor Mentor

- Relates to candidate throughout process
- Formal evaluation not part of the role
- Shapes the being of the pastor*

Internship Supervisor

- Relates to candidate during internship
- Formal evaluation essential to the role
- Shapes the doing of the pastor*

* Obviously, pastoral being and pastoral doing are integrally related, and both the pastor mentor and the internship supervisor will be concerned with both aspects of pastoral identity. The emphasis falls differently, however, between the role of the pastor mentor and the role of the internship supervisor. Pastor mentors will not ordinarily be helping to plan and direct the ministerial work of TEEM candidates in ways that internship supervisors necessarily do, nor will pastor mentors routinely accompany TEEM candidates in the conduct of their work in ways that internship supervisors frequently do.

Because of the distinctions between the roles of pastor mentor and internship supervisor, we strongly recommend that the two roles be filled by two different pastors—i.e., that a pastor mentor shall not also be the internship supervisor for the candidate he or she has been appointed to mentor. The pastoral formation of TEEM candidates is best served by involving a larger rather than smaller network of wise and experienced pastors in relationship with candidates.

When face-to-face meetings between the pastor mentor and the TEEM candidate are made difficult by conflicts in schedule, or where geographic distance makes weekly meetings difficult, WTS suggests that mentor-candidate meetings might occur by telephone or online—rather than be suspended or neglected.

We request that TEEM candidates provide the seminary (TEEM director) with the names and contact information of their pastor mentors.

Included in this handbook, are the Twelve Pastoral-Diaconal Practices of Wartburg Theological Seminary (Appendix F), to which pastor mentors are encouraged to refer in meetings with their TEEM candidates, as well as a sample one-year agenda for mentor-candidate meetings (Appendix G). Both materials are supplied to WTS TEEM pastor mentors, along with resources mentioned above. In addition, WTS provides a complimentary copy of Mentors As Instruments of God's Call: Biblical Reflections, by Justo L. González, to all pastor mentors.

Mentors and TEEM students may also utilize the Oct 2011 volume of Currents in Theology & Mission to guide their conversations about the Twelve Pastoral Practices. Copies are available from Currents at 1100 East 55th Street, Chicago, Illinois 60615.

Tuition and Financial Aid Information

What are the tuition and fees for the WTS and LSPS TEEM program?

Please see Tuition and Fees at www.wartburgseminary.edu/admissions/enroll/funding-education/tuition-fees/.

Are there any other costs?

Each course will include expenses for the purchase of required books and/or other material. Additional costs pertaining to the TEEM program include transportation, food, and lodging expenses incurred through enrollment in on-campus intensives. CPE may require additional tuition/fees payable to the host institution or program.

How is payment made?

All payments for both programs are made through the WTS Business Office. WTS accepts payment of all types, including online payments via the MyWTS student portal. For tax purposes, WTS establishes an account for each TEEM student, into which all payments are deposited and from which all debits are drawn. Financial aid from synods, congregations, and scholarships are also deposited into the account of the student on whose behalf the aid is given.

Is financial aid available?

Because the TEEM curriculum is a non-degree certificate program pursued on a part-time, self-directed basis, TEEM students are not eligible for federal or institutional financial aid and are therefore not required to complete financial aid forms.

WTS and LSPS TEEM candidates are encouraged to seek financial aid from synods, congregations, and other partners in their candidacy process. Because the LSPS TEEM curriculum is designed to support and encourage Hispanic ministry, LSPS scholarship support is available to assist students in this program. There is no financial aid application. Scholarships coincide with course registration.

Appendix

Appendix A: WTS TEEM Course Descriptions

TM011 HEBREW BIBLE 1

This course provides a grounding and framework for understanding the Old Testament (Hebrew Bible). Introductory material will include the Lutheran understandings of the authority of Scripture, the development of the canon, the socio-historical context of the ancient Near Eastern world, and the narrative critical approach to reading and interpreting Scripture. Students will become acquainted with a wide variety of texts, themes and issues in the Pentateuch and Psalms and reflect on these texts and their implications for pastoral and congregational ministry. [Available on-campus only]

Hebrew Bible 1 and 2 can be taken in any order. This course meets the Hebrew Bible 1 requirement for Wartburg's TEEM program; meets the Hebrew Bible requirement for Wartburg's Certificate Programs.

TM012 HEBREW BIBLE 2

This introductory course explores themes and traditions in the prophetic books and writings of the Hebrew Bible. The course will investigate the ongoing dialogue between specific texts, their socio-historical contexts and other biblical texts and how that dialogue informs interpretation and missional ministry. The course concludes with a discussion of the intertestamental period and how certain themes are carried into the New Testament. [Available on-campus only]

Hebrew Bible 1 and 2 can be taken in any order. This course meets the Hebrew Bible 2 requirement for Wartburg's TEEM program; meets the Hebrew Bible requirement for Wartburg's Certificate Programs.

TM021 ENGAGING THE GOSPELS – PERSPECTIVES ON FOLLOWING JESUS

This course is designed to provide participants a basic introduction to the four Gospels and engage them in an informed reading of these important Christian writings. The course will focus on Mark, Matthew, and Luke—often designated as “the Synoptic Gospels” because of their similar portrayals of the Jesus story. Though telling the same basic story, each Gospel has its distinctive features, including how it portrays the figure of Jesus and what it means to be his disciple. The Synoptics hence offer three models of discipleship for contemporary Christians to ponder. The course will introduce the Fourth Gospel (John) to demonstrate its theological importance and how different it is from the other three. This course is ten-weeks long and incorporates further study on Acts and Revelation. [Online course]

This course meets the New Testament 1 requirement for Wartburg's TEEM program; meets New Testament requirement for Wartburg's Certificate Programs.

TM022 ENGAGING THE EPISTLES: PAUL & THE PASTORAL LETTERS

While all the letters in the New Testament canon bear witness to God's saving activity through the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ, each author evidences distinct perspectives and emphases regarding such topics as Christology, ecclesiology, eschatology, soteriology, and Christian mission and praxis. This course seeks to discover the distinctive theological views and claims of the Apostle Paul in the seven letters whose Pauline authorship is without doubt. We will also introduce the other six letters that bear the Apostle's name but whose Pauline authorship is disputed. Our study of the Pastoral letters will concentrate on their contextual nature and their importance to the early Church's development and mission. This course is ten weeks long. [Online course]

This course meets the New Testament 2 requirement for Wartburg's TEEM program; meets New Testament requirement for Wartburg's Certificate Programs.

TM030 INTRODUCTION TO THE HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY

This course combines an introductory survey of the history of Christianity with a deeper examination of certain issues critical to the life and development of the Church. TM081 AN INTRODUCTION TO PASTORAL CARE: CARING FOR THE SICK

Illness is a crisis that isolates us, scares us and makes us very vulnerable. How can we care for one another in Christian community when illness strikes? In this course we'll share experiences of care (or lack of care) during sickness. We will discuss a pastor's role in direct care and in coaching congregational care. This will give us the opportunity to explore some of the basics of pastoral care: how to listen, how to pray with someone in crisis, how to relate to children, how to live with not being able to "fix" everything. [Available on-campus only]

This course meets the Pastoral Care requirement for Wartburg's TEEM program and for Wartburg's Certificate Programs.

TM082 UNDERSTANDING LOSS AND GRIEF: PERSPECTIVES FOR EFFECTIVE MINISTRY

Loss is a pervasive human experience that comes in many shapes and sizes. We experience it in the death of a loved one as well as in the closing of a store on Main Street. We experience loss in social change as well as in the normal transitions of family life. With loss comes grief—certainly one of the most disorienting and painful experiences of which humans beings are capable. In this course we will learn to identify the wide range of losses that people experience, and to understand the grieving process. We will learn how to minister to grieving people in ways that are both theologically and psychologically sound. [Available on-campus only]

This course meets the Pastoral Care requirement for Wartburg's TEEM program and for Wartburg's Certificate Programs.

TM083 PASTORAL CARE IN CONTEXT

This course will provide a working framework for an integrated understanding of pastoral care in the life and ministry of a congregation. Students will be challenged to claim their own approach as a pastoral caregiver and identify the most salient principles and practices for effective pastoral care ministry. A variety of “contexts” for pastoral care will be considered (e.g., loss and grief, developmental and situational crises, illness, abuse, and addictions, inter alia). [Available on-campus only]

This course meets the Pastoral Care requirement for Wartburg’s TEEM program and for Wartburg’s Certificate Programs.

TM091 BEYOND MAINTENANCE TO MISSION

This course will provide the foundation for constructing a theology of the congregation. Special attention is given to the articulation of a congregation’s identity and mission. Components of a proposed model include worship, education, fellowship, stewardship, evangelism, global connections, ecumenism and social ministry. Practical implications for congregational implementation are examined. [Available online only]

In the light of those explorations, this course considers implications for the public ministry of the gospel in rural settings. This course provides a variety of reading and writing assignments by which students will be required to reflect upon theological and sociological perspectives on the dynamics of rural communities and rural congregations. Students will be expected to integrate their own experiences and perspectives with those of the authors of assigned texts and of one another. All students in the course will share responsibility for teaching and learning as a shared class project. Students will participate in mutual teaching and learning by posting original essays in response to assigned questions or topics, and by reading and replying to each other’s work. [Available online only]

TM094 EMERGING MINISTRY: BEING CHURCH TODAY

What does it mean to be the church as we live - not as we think or remember or long for, but as we live God's mission today? What does it mean to be who we are, where we are as the people of God? The emerging church conversation will be "Exhibit A" in this course as we respond to these and other important questions. Participants will explore evangelical listening and living in a radically contextual, communal way as seen in many emerging church communities. [Available online only]

This course meets the Contextual Ministry requirement for Wartburg's TEEM program; meets the Evangelism or Contextual Ministry requirement for the Wartburg's Certificate Programs.

Appendix F: Twelve Pastoral-Diaconal Practices: EMBODYING WARTBURG SEMINARY'S MISSION STATEMENT

“Wartburg Theological Seminary...”

[Three overarching practices]

- 1) Practice of Being Rooted in the Gospel: Articulates the Gospel in a way that is heard as Gospel. Is publicly Lutheran and Gospel-centered.
- 2) Practice of Missio Dei in Word and Sacrament: Is grounded in Word and Sacrament as the means by which God creates faith in Christ and a community (koinonia) for God's mission (martyria and diakonia) in the world. Pastors exercise faithful worship preparation, evangelical preaching, and sacramental leadership. Diaconal ministers and deaconesses serve as a strategic bridge between church and world. Associates in ministry serve faithfully in their areas of call in relationship to the worshipping community. All the baptized are sent by the Spirit to employ their gifts in God's mission for the life of the world.
- 3) Practice of Biblical and Theological Wisdom: Interprets reality theologically and biblically as a habit. Has a core set of theological concepts that are interpreted with flexibility in different contexts.

“...serves Christ's church through the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America by being a worship-centered community of critical theological reflection where learning leads to mission and mission informs learning.”

- 4) Practice of Ecclesial Partnership: Displays a healthy sense of connectedness with the whole church. Fosters partnership with the ELCA and ecumenical openness.
- 5) Practice of Complex Analysis: Demonstrates capacity to carefully examine complex social, economic, scientific, and religious issues without oversimplification. Sees relationships from a systems perspective, remaining spiritually centered in the face of ambiguity.
- 6) Practice of Curiosity: Is fundamentally curious, employing creativity in the use of language. Is open to grow beyond current perspectives and eager to pursue learning with intellectual depth.

“The community embodies God's mission by stewarding resources for engaging, equipping, and sending collaborative leaders...”

- 7) Practice of Pastoral Concern: Loves God's people with the compassion of Christ, demonstrating a generous spirit in relating to others, teaching and modeling stewardship. Maintains a clear sense of ministerial identity and desire for excellence in ministry.
- 8) Practice of Personal Faith and Integrity: Lives as person of faith, grounded in a life of prayer and study. Is self-aware in seeing the larger picture, proclaiming hope, leading courageously, and setting healthy boundaries.
- 9) Practice of Collegiality: Leads in a way that is responsive to the situation and promotes team building. Creates collegial groups within and beyond the church for promoting many forms of ministry.

“who interpret, proclaim and live the gospel of Jesus Christ for a world created for communion with God and in need of personal and social healing.”

- 10) Practice of Evangelical Listening and Speaking the Faith to Others: Listens in a way that leads people to deeper faith questions. Engages in thoughtful witness to the Christian message, especially to youth and those outside the faith.
- 11) Practice of Immersion in the Context: Shows awareness of the context through listening to, dialogue with and involvement in the local community. Has ability to interpret texts and contexts with insight.
- 12) Practice of Engagement with Cross-Cultural and Global Dimensions: Engages multicultural issues and religious pluralism in the context of globalization. Understands the inclusive character of the Christian Gospel.
